Update on actions taken in response to COVID-19

Dublin, Ireland – 2 April 2020: Datalex plc (the “Company” or the “Group”) (Euronext Dublin: DLE) today provides an update on the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Since our statement regarding COVID-19 on 12 March 2020, market conditions have deteriorated and, as widely reported, the travel restrictions imposed to control the spread of COVID-19 are having a significant and negative impact on our airline customers.

This is an unprecedented time for our industry, and it is difficult to accurately quantify the likely impact of COVID-19 on our financial and trading performance at this stage. However, Datalex has taken immediate action to offset the expected significant impact on the Group’s revenues in 2020 and to protect overall outturn for the year by reducing operating expenses and improving cash flows. These actions include a targeted redundancy programme, re-negotiating business partner arrangements, eliminating discretionary spending, freezing recruitment, implementing voluntary leave options and temporary reduced working hours for all employees.

The Board believes that these actions, together with the support of our customers and ongoing flexibility from our business partners, mean that the Group is well positioned to withstand the impact of COVID-19 and to look to the future following the pandemic with confidence. We continue to monitor the situation closely and will take further appropriate and timely action if required.
